Dear Hannah Barker,

Re : Householder application for Planning Permission to 1 Newman's Gardens, Sompting, Lancing, W.Sussex BN15 0BD. Ref. ADC/0292/10

Further to your e-mail to me of 1st September and our telephone conversation this week I enclose 3 copies of dwg no.ng/10/03 showing an amended version of the original design. The depth of the conservatory has been reduced by 0.6m and to reduce the impact on the neighbour further with regard to light, the brickwork has been reduced and glazing introduced for the end 1.2m section and further glazing introduced to the clearstorey above fence height. The width has increased by 0.5m to line up with the edge of the original house, in order to try and gain back a little of the floor space lost by the reduction in depth. My client has been in conversation with the neighbour who was surprised that the extension had not been taken right up to the fence line so seemingly has no issues with the proposal.

I hope these amendments address your concerns and you will be able to recommend it for approval under delegated powers.

I am away next week but will be able to be contacted on Monday 20th September.

Yours sincerely,
