Comments:	Object till I know more about ancillary outbuilding. As neighbours haven't taken the curtesy to come round and explain what they are doing then I can only presume they see an issue for me. My query is on the ancillary outbuilding being located in the rear garden. 1. What will it be used for and what services run to it? 2. What height as measured from ground, will it be above current fence line? 3. Location as we have a greenhouse and would lose light depending on above. 4. How close to boundary as occupier of 124 Downside has already taken a small part of boundary which had a wire fence marking boundary down. 5. How do I see the actual plans as nothing on this site I can find in documents?

Kind regards
