Comment and recommendation

The West Sussex Historic Environment Record (HER) identifies the site of a World War II anti-aircraft battery very close to this address. However, the proposed extension to the rear of 2, Mill Hill Close is a minor development. Taking into consideration the modest size of the proposed extension and the likelihood of pre-existing ground disturbance when the property was originally built I believe that these works can be treated as de minimis and do not require any archaeological investigation. No further action on archaeological grounds required.
