Dear Sirs,

Re the above ,My concern's / objection's are

The small private road that runs along side my property, leading to the development site has suffered

From a series of sink-holes. The development of 3 three storey dwellings will require two thirds more weight and more construction vehicles using the road. Compared to the original plans that where passed .

Who would be responsible re cost should more sink-holes appear .

It is known that this area had several underground streams and diches that was a natural outlet to the sea and that the construction and development of larger and larger area's has highlighted this problem

Traffic using the road would be increased most homes in this age have two car's .I am fortunate to have ample parking for myself and my guests ,But it has lead to others parking on the access strip to my garages causing confrontation and distress .Understandably ever one likes to park near bye and we all think we will only be 5 minutes (this is not the case)

I Thank you for considerations in this matter .
