Hi Peter,

thanks for that. I just wanted to make sure the new development was considered. I have remeasured the distance to the nearest proposed property to the west of the hospital, it is approximate as I do not have scaled plans, but based on the recommended maximum noise level for the plant reported, I have calculated the expected noise contribution from the plant in this area and It should be ok.

Regards

Michael

The Hammy lane location was the nearer and had he lowest back ground noise measurement so is considered to be the worst case scenario to base the limiting noise ratings of any plant.

I will contact the acoustician to amend the report but as this was not seen as being a significant statement, as due to the higher background noise level the effect of the any plant noise is less than the other receptors on Hammy Lane.

I issue the revised report as soon as possible.

Richard

The submitted noise report refers to the nearest houses to the est of the site but no mention is made of the future development to the west and the proposed nearest houses to the western boundary.

Could the report please be amended to take this into consideration and be re-submitted?

Thanks

Peter
