Good afternoon Eve, Matthew and Peter,

Further to my recent conversation with Eve regarding the above application, I am satisfied that the precautionary condition shall suffice. It was also concluded that a site meeting is no longer necessary.

Many thanks and enjoy your holiday,

Kate.

Dear Katharine,

I have spoken to the planning agent and they have agreed to an extension of time to determine the application until the end of this calendar month.

The agent has asked for a site meeting in the first week of my return, to understand why the condition is needed and what it is you require from them.

Currently, I am unavailable 29th, 30th, 31st and after two weeks off, I would prefer to leave 28th free.

Please confirm your availability for the meeting.

Yours sincerely,

PS. I rang you today but your phone is not correctly connected to Openspace, so had to talk to a colleague.
