Interested party 3

Comments

Planning permission was submitted to the council for approval and granted. The works carried out do not match the plans. Why was this not monitored and halted during construction? We have to ask "what is the point of submitting any plans?" if they can be altered so easily without consequence.

Why wasnt the project monitored during the constru tion pro ess to see that it adhered to their original approval. Close

Supporting documents

No documents