Comments:	I have just looked at the amended plans. The only change I noticed was that rather than just two bins initially there will now be one more bin making three in total. My question: are these bins just for the revamped building or the existing bin area being relocated? It doesn't seem to specify. We already have three bins at the moment where the 'garden area' is planned to go. Plus two recycling bins and ideally we really need either another large recycling or a third smaller one. I can't see where those bins are going? As it is when the bins are full and overflowing the seagulls are a nightmare tearing bags apart with rubbish everywhere and is not very healthy or environmentally friendly so we definitely do not want any less than we currently have and requires consideration.

Kind regards
