Hi Keith,

Thanks for your email yesterday.

Regarding publicity our 'Publicity Procedure for Planning Applications' has not been formally signed off yet. However, this application is classified as a 'Minerals application of a minor nature' (i.e. a site less than 1 ha and less than 1000m2 floorspace created) and so publicity will be carried out via newspaper advert, site notices and on WSCC's website. I will ensure that site notices are displayed at the site itself, at locations on the A259 visible to neighbouring sites and across the harbour where those residential properties are situated.

I noticed the 'validation' typo too and it should have been corrected by now as should any emails/letters that Adur DC and other consultees have already received.

Regards, Sam

Sam,

With reference to yr letter of 30 October 2009, I confirm that we are consulting our EHO and will endeavour to reply by 20 November as requested.

Please can you let me know the extent of publicity you have carried out for this application. In particular, are you notifying residents on the opposite side of the river?

Regards

Keith

PS. I have noticed that there seems to be a typo on yr website description of this application – it says ‘Validation’, not ‘Variation’.
