Hi Hannah,

As far as I am aware we don't normally have control of internally applied vinyl posters.

Stepping back and looking at the whole building, it will appear to be a giant advertisement. In the circumstances the externally applied new poster frames on the brickwork of the front elevation, are in my opinion excessive and unnecessary. I also note the trough lighting is to be extended across the right hand side of the front of the shop, further increasing the current lighting levels.

Regards
Richard
