Reasons for comment:	- Privacy Light and Noise
Comments:	I'd like to register my concerns around possible intrusive noise from the proposed installation of the heat pump. I appreciate there is a decibel limit with such items but have concerns around noise it may make when running particularly as it's sited in a fairly quiet close. Noise such as low frequency humming can be very pervasive and disturbing and the internet is full of stories where this is an issue with heat pumps, with the sound reverberating over distance.
