Comments:	Whilst possibly not falling within the scope of this planning application it is nevertheless very much related to it. For visitors arriving via the south entrance to an impressive new building, now to be complemented by modern signage, it is completely ruined by the appalling sight of exposed recycling bins with associated and unassociated fly tipping rubbish often strewn around them. With all this effort and expense to create a new, clean, modern looking Centre surely some consideration should be given to move the offending bins or at least hide them with extended fencing?
