Comments:	I am the Director of a Sussex charity. Our charity recently contacted a range of community venues in the Portslade area. None were as welcoming as the Eastbrook Manor Community Centre. They had a positive 'can do' attitude that made anything possible. They were always extremely efficient and professional. Having seen the way they operate, we very much support their application. They have the skills, local knowledge, contacts, belief in opportunity for their community that will make any work associated with them succeed. This is our experience as an independent charity with nothing to personally gain from their application. We support their endeavours.

Kind regards
