Hi James,

Been through some old correspondence, and please see attached sign-off sheet for the crates' installation by the manufacturer.

Morning James,

The photo was taken prior to crate installation, of them onsite to prove we were putting them in, it is all underground and connected now. As you can see, the impermeable liner is installed in the photo, with the crates to the side of the excavation ready to go in.

We have not left them out in the open like that !! Photo shows pre-installation as the engineer who wrote the report visited site that morning.

With regards to the as-built, I believe this was included within the application on a separate sheet. If not, please see attached here as well.

Regards

George

Apologies, these comments from the LLFA (West Sussex) came in while I was away. I am not sure when their site visit was but could you address the points that they raise please in the attached letter.

Thanks James
