Reasons for comment:	- Privacy Light and Noise
Comments:	I dont mind an extension but it has a clear glazed roof you will be able to see out of if you are on a chair and at night it will be a constant source of light pollution into our garden at night Its a large area and the plans are showing just one living area down stairs. I am also concerned about the noise transmission which again will be directed at us. would not object to a flat roof with skylights. Also the plans over estimate the distance of the new sidewall to the actual boundary the gutter will encroach but I would be willing to compromise on this if the roof line is changed. I have had no discussions with the new owner
