Comments:	It was bad enough when it was just a motorbike distribution centre, these new additions will make the site far more busy, active and noisy. There is absolutely no place for a business like this right in the middle of a residential area. And a pleasant, family residential area at that. This site is no longer appropriate in this area. There are plenty of industrial sites around here which do not share their space with people's homes. As people are becoming priced out of Portslade, they will look to this area to move in to. We should be trying to make this area more desirable and accessible to families, not alienating them by desperately trying to maintain this area as a mixed use one. If there ever was a site which should be earmarked for development to residential homes, it's this one! What's the point in spending money on the new community centre and children's playground and facilities etc if you're not welcoming families to the area? This site has been empty for a long time, because it's not suitably located for any type of business of that size. Please just admit defeat and get rid of it! Apart from all this, as we back right onto this building, I can imagine the noise of transportation coming and going and being washed and rested etc will be an awful noise and disruption! Totally unacceptable.
