Reasons for comment:	- Design - Trees and Landscaping
Comments:	The Landscaping and communal area is nothing like the original plans that were submitted, and approved for the development. There is no grassed area and the few plants which have been planted are already dying. There is also a large generator which looks very unsightly. It is not encased which makes it a hazard. The original plans were for a "high quality landscape design solution", and what we have been left with definitely isn't this. Left over decking has been used to plant trees which will not provide enough room for them to grow. We spent a lot of money on our flat and bought into 'Luxury apartment living.' So far, this has not been our experience and we are extremely disappointed with the 'Communal Garden.'

Kind regards
