Comments: I think its great that a company (even a taxi company) wants to move into Lancing, I for one am sick of walking down the high street and seeing another empty shop, the building as it stands needs work it looks rather tatty from the outside and I hope they will do something to improve the view. The high street is on the decline rents are too high for little businesses to survive, im sure everyone would love to it full of retail shops but taking a look at whats around ie lots of charity, bookies, and hair and beauty shops and the demand for businesses here I doubt very much that will happen. It would be great to see a taxi office actually open and one that maybe can provide a better service than those already here.
