Comments:	Having now seen this application I feel that it is completely out of character with the surrounding properties which are bungalows. Raising the roof to the proposed height will virtually turn the bungalow into a house and is being done for financial gain as one person resides at the property. The South facing proposed windows will invade the privacy of the property adjacent which is totally wrong, as they have made alterations but have not invaded any ones privacy by doing so and have retained the original height of the property. Whilst I appreciate I will not be directly affected by the development, I feel that the outlook up to the downs which I enjoy will be blighted by the height increase of the property which I object to losing.
