Subject: Planning permission for 100 Old Fort, Shoreham by sea

Dear sirs,

I am a next door neighbour of 100 Old Fort (namely 102) and have perused the plans for their greenhouse and screens, and think their greenhouse will be an environmental asset, as well as providing fresh, healthy produce. I know everyone says you cannot grow anything on the beach, but by composting and saving as much water with butts, etc. you can grow a large variety of vegetables, and even more in a greenhouse, especially how their's is sited. I also think the hedge growing out of the wall, shielding the greenhouse is a good idea as when it grows it will hide any view of the greenhouse from the road, and the only people who will be able to see it are their immediate neighbours, of which I am one, and I think it will be an attractive feature.

With regard to the screens, they will obviously help the trees to become established, and I personally have no objection to them.

I hope this will help at the next committee meeting.

Yours faithfully,

Rosemary Marshall
