James

Thanks for your email.

I have no objection to the use of Ibstock glazed pewter brickwork rather than glazed blue bricks on the areas specified in the approved drawings.

Planning permission ADC/0075/09

Hi Peter,

We are hoping to start work very shortly to build the 2 houses at 63 Old fort road which were given Planning permission under the above consent. You may recall that the design on the approved drawings had some sections of 'blue' glazed brickwork. We have have many samples from Ibstock bricks showing various colours and the colour that we most favour is 'Pewter' which is a dark grey for the glazed bricks. It should go very well with the metal frame windows.

There is no condition in the Planning Permission which requires approval of materials, but I did put on the drawings; 'glazed blue' - is it okay to have 'glazed pewter'.

I know its a small point, but I don't want to get in trouble later! Could you please let me know.

Many thanks,

James
