Comments:	Being away on holiday committments unable to comment before. I have no objection to the extensions apart for the pitched roof. In keeping with most extensions in this area it should be flat roofed. My property is continually being overshadowed by higher prperties being built around me and this one is on the end of my back garden. The new site of 16 dwellings on the old car showroom being an instant of higher rooves than the existing neighbours. A pitch roof on this case is unneccessary as I consider a flat one will be the least inconvenient for all the neighbours.
