Comments: As with the majority of properties along this stretch of the road, including both neighbours, we wish to use this piece of land to park one car. We also feel ownership of the whole of the front garden will prove a better selling point in the future. With regards to the objection by Mr Fray, this is the first we have heard of any of this and we refute all his allegations. Not a matter for discussion here, but we have far more right to complain with regards to noise. Parking one car on this piece of land will be no different to what he does himself. Also, Mr Fray leaves for work before us, my husband and myself both leave around 8am, so we cannot understand his objection.
