Comments:	1. Where will the rainwater from the north facing part of the house roof will be diverted to? Currently it is diverted to a soakaway via a downpipe beside the rear garage door. After the works are complete that would be in the middle of the building. Will it be diverted away from my house, across the porch roof and into the front lawn? This also applies to the downpipe at the rear of the property. 2. Will the retaining wall be inspected / repaired / repointed, because after the works it will obviously be completely inaccessible?

Kind regards
