PLANNING SERVICES

Dear Mr Barnett,
A planning application has been submitted for a bulky extension at the front of the above property. We do not support it for the following reasons;
Without a doubt, such a large extension will take light away from the house next door, namely no 142. They have a lounge at the front of their house and the light and vista to this room would be severely compromised if planning went ahead.
We all appreciate how lucky we are to live on the foreshore, these are indeed our dream homes, and most of us here have worked long and hard to be able to reside in such a privileged location. To find your dream home and then be put in a position to fall out of love with it due to the possibility of an intrusive extension next door, is both unfair and morally wrong.
I know the residents of both houses and get on well with all of them. I do however know exactly how I would feel if the same was happening to me.
The house to the east of us has been on and off the market, and if this went ahead it would set a precedent for anyone to compromise someone elses property. When the house to our west was putting in a planning application we discussed it with them. In their original plans we would have lost our view of Brighton, so they altered them and pulled the building back to be in line with ours.
In light of this the adults in our household would like to strongly object to this proposal,

Kind regards
