Dear Sir/Madam
I am writing to appeal against the refusal to permit a planning application to use my property for air BnB for a small part of the year. I will only let out the property for special events like Goodwood revival, the festival of speed at Goodwood and maybe pride events in Brighton and Worthing. It will be let out for 30-50 days a year at the most. The property will still be my permanent home, so it won't be a material change of use. All utilities and services for the property, gas, electric, council tax and insurance will still be in my name.

Yours faithfully
Mark Pilkington
