Dear Sirs

Again we are very surprised that this planning application has not been refused from the last communication received from all the local residents that raised extremely valid reasons that this application is totally ridiculous.

For several weeks tankers have been doing constant removal of excess water and waste from the inadequate drainage system already in Old Shoreham Road. These tankers have ruined the ground where they are turning off the A27.

We strongly feel that highways should actually visit the site to see for themselves that the large amount of construction traffic having to access this site is completely unsuitable.

We are always hoping that common sense will prevail and the fact that the planning on this land being turned down every time over more than 25 years since we have lived here has good reason. The situation has only worsened with increased traffic and drains on resources in the area.

Please take this as a third objection to the plans and any changes that may have been made as a potential improvement. The only improvement will be no building.

Please acknowledge our further appeal in conjunction with the two previously submitted.

Yours faithfully

Karen and Alan McNie
