YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

To whom it may concern,

I am writing in response to the planning appeal submitted by Allbox Services.
In keeping with the comments provided by a huge number of local residents in the original planning process, I strongly object this proposal and cannot see what has changed that would warrant overturning the council's original decision to reject the planning application.

There are very few green spaces left in this area of Shoreham, and the devastating effect that this would have on local wildlife is not justifiable. In addition, there would be a huge impact on so many properties along Gordon Road, in terms of noise and light pollution, whilst the security of each of those properties would be threatened as a result also.

The addition of these proposed storage units is not something that adds any value to the community or wider area, but only serves to increase profits of a company at a considerable social and ecological cost.

I only hope that the inspectorate will respect the Council's original decision and uphold it.

Kind Regards

Robert
