Comments:	looking at plans it clearly shows the extension using our wall of our extension as their whole wall Our building is built on the our side of the boundary and we need a gap to be able to repair or remove our wall and also our roof. When built there was still a fence on the boundary the other side of our garage, wall and extension. Neighbours removed as didnt like the look. We do not want our wall to be used as part of their extension they need to build their own wall their side of the boundary, leaving a gap for any repairs, collecting rain water etc.

Kind regards
