Comments: Lancing long has a reputation of being a 'chavy' or a down and out village, literally the last thing we need to help this image is large betting shop. With the closure of so many shops in the area it has already become a joke what a charity shop ally it is! Also I worry how many young children and teens travel past here to schools and a gambling location especially in lack of other shops would not be a good advertisement for them, gambling addiction is a ever increasing problem in young people.

Kind regards
