27th May 2011 St Pauls Lodge

Dear Sirs,

Regarding the felling of the Quince Tree at St Pauls Lodge.

I have inspected this tree & have found it very healthy & a lovely light green with the fruids about to come. Our lodge manager told us that it is diseased & I feel that the 92 year old lady that has flat 26 thinks this. The tree has Algae or lichen which is on many of our trees but is harmless.

I think it is wrong to fell a very healthy tree + I know that alot of our residents feel the same. The Quince was planted years ago by the Nuns who lived on this site before St Pauls was built.

I do hope that someone will inspect the tree before a decision is made.

Yours faithfully
Patricia Strong MRS
