Dear Jo Morin

Many moons ago, an aerial was attached to the tower of St. Peter's church, for what I think, was for a Worthing Radio station, using the brackets referred to, in your letter. Unfortunately, for me, the transmissions from this aerial, generated interference on my radio, which stopped following the removal of said aerial.

With this in mind and the fact that Wi-Fi within the house, has become an integral part of everyday tele-communication and TV entertainment, I feel that I must object to the installation of and hence, use of transmission aerials on the church tower

Yours sincerely

G.L. Brown
