Comments:	When we purchased our property it was with full knowledge that theses premises were to be a convenience store and we see it as being beneficial to the area. There will always be an element of anti social behaviour wherever you live but hopefully with the addition of cctv and more footfall around the entrance to the store, this will be more of a deterrent. It probably won't cause any more inconvenience to residents than the numerous late night & early morning noisy (doors banging, engines left running) supermarket food delivery vans that frequent this development on a daily basis!

Kind regards
