Dear Sir/Madam,

We object in the strongest possible terms to these intrusive illuminated signs which have been erected in a conservation area without permission.

The signs are cheap and tacky and degrade what to date has been a well kept and unspoiled conservation area.

The signs are directly opposite the oldest house in Lancing and totally out of keeping

The signs are in addition to existing illuminated signs which are quite adequate to the task and already intrude on the area

Permission would send a bad signal and encourage others to flout planning as well as setting a poor planning precedent for the area.

The signs create significant light pollution and are a nuisance for close neighbours.

I hope you will refuse permission for these ugly and intrusive signs which are spoiling our area,

Regards,

Mr.Lindsay Morris
