Dear Development Management

We refer you to our letter dated 8th October. Our comments are still current, and we wish them to be taken into consideration.

With regards to the roof light, opening Velux windows have been installed to the roof on the East elevation, it was stipulated in the original planning that no windows or openings were allowed on the issued Permit. Again, we object to this we do not want windows, skylights or Velux facing our property.

The dimensions of the roof has already been raised leaving the light blocked into our garden, just to be clear that this is the entire width of our Garden. Furthermore, we have previously experienced challenges with persistent dampness and limited sunlight in our garden due to the proximity of trees associated with Swandean Hospital. These conditions present ongoing safety issues and diminish our family's ability to enjoy our outdoor space. The increased height of the new construction is likely to exacerbate these problems.

What is the point of having plans agreed and permits issued when no one sticks to them?

For clarity, we did not object to the original plans; however, it is evident that the structure now in place exceeds the dimensions that were approved and does not align with the originally permitted design.

Based on the comments provided above, we respectfully object to the approval of the proposed amendments to the planning application and request that this objection be formally acknowledged.

Yours sincerely

Mr and Mrs Davenport
