Dear Sir/Madam

Re: Erection of shed at 55 Upper Kingston Lane, Shoreham

I am writing regarding the retrospective plans that have been submitted to you from 55, Upper Kingston Lane, Shoreham-by-sea, West Sussex, BN43 6TG, for the erection of a shed.

The shed had already been put up at the end of my property. The owner of the house visited me to tell me about it but, at the time, there was no roof on the shed and I was not told it would be so high. There is also a window in the shed which overlooks my garden and I am not happy about that. It is very near my boundary and, if they put on guttering as the owner mentioned to me, it will overhang my property.I was told it was going to be potting shed but no way is it a potting shed that size.

The previous owners had a summer house but it was not as large or high and did not look an eyesore which this so called potting shed does.

Plans were not submitted until after the shed had been erected which means there has not been any consultation with the affected neighbours. I wish to register my request that planning permission is not granted.

Yours faithfully [redacted]

Mrs J Jackson
