Reasons for comment: - Design

Comments: My only concern when viewing the drawings is the high level window located within the west facing brickwork. This window views directly onto my rear garden and will be ~ 140mm? from our boundary line . Mr Gray assures me the window will be fixed (no casements) and glazed with an obscure glass. This detail is however omitted from the available drawings therefore can A+W Planning department confirm the window will have the above specification?

Kind regards
