Reasons for comment:	- Other
Comments:	The work done to date has improved what was previously a derelict and unused area. The development is tasteful and respectful and time has been taken to upgrade the environment. I look forward to a similar view at the bottom of my garden which currently is a grass wasteland. The style of the build to date is one of enhancement, not just for the sake of a build but a great improvement of what was there before. It puzzles me why this would be delayed.
