Dear Mr Hone

Proposed roof extensions

Thank you for your letter of the 27th March 2009 the contents of which are noted.

I have discussed the contents of your letter with my clients and to realign the window to the front roof dormer as suggested in your letter together with a reduction in width would result in an 'L' shaped room which would then really be impractical for use as a bedroom.

However, to position the dormer more centrally within the roof it has been decided to remove the front porch and align the window to the front dormer with the west side of the front door. As far as the window design is concerned my clients are also willing to change the living room window to a 3 pane full casement window as indicated on the enclosed drawings.

Therefore, please find enclosed one copy of each of drawings no. 28/355/2B and 28/355/3B showing the amended elevations and floor plans which are to be substituted for those plans originally submitted with this application.

Yours sincerely
