Hi

I wish to object to the latest planning application for courtlands by the sea.

This appears to be another application trying to avoid undertaking changes in a proper manner by retrospective changes. This a grade 2 listed building and to be honest I don't think it is suitable for a school.

It's a fantastic building but have the correct adaptations been made to make it suitable for a school. Particularly for those with specific needs.

Have the works so far been approved for use as a school by planning, building control and the fire service? If not then further changes should not be allowed and it should be investigated further.

Many thanks
