| Comments: | As a person with links to this area , I object due to the fact that this will negatively impact tourism in this area, no tourist wants to stroll past an HMO. This could be the start of the decline of this area to bring it in line with Blackpool, Clacton, Skegness and so many other seaside towns which have spiralled into social and economic doldrums. It is sad that yet another seafront hotel (in an area where we need hotels) has disappeared. There is also the potential risk of noise in what is a residential area. |
