This is a ridiculous project - food vans, horses, parking, green energy production - all on a small piece of land, which will only mar the beautiful Goring Gap. There is no need for these so-called services. There is already a lot of parking available on the road; the beach is right there with plenty to occupy everyone and the Pawfic van provides all the refreshments anyone could want. This is a beautiful area, beloved by everyone who lives in Ferring and we would dearly love it to continue as it is, without Mr Dixon's nonsense, cluttering up the place.
