Dear Sir

I object to the recent planning application by Mr Chris Dixon on the Goring Gap. His proposals are clearly the first step toward the ultimate aim of selling his piece of land to a property developer for housing, with Persimmion at the head of that queue. There is no need for what he is proposing, and the beauty of the area is being compromised by the horse boxes etc he has moved onto the land.

I sincerely hope that his application is rejected and that the Goring Gap between Ferring and Goring remains one of unspoilt beauty.

Yours faithfully

Duncan Moore
