Subject: Biofuel power station

Dear Sir/ Madam,

I have only recently learnt of the intent to build a biofuel power station in Shoreham port and I have recently e-mailed my objection.

I would like to point out that in the past week I have spoken to many many residents on Shoreham Beach where I live who had no idea this was occuring. Why have we been informed about a new Morrisons and the proposed Rampion wind farm when we have not had proper consultation on this issue.

I am disgusted at Adur for not facilitating proper debate and democratic process. Whilst I, like most people I have spoken to, understand the need for clean and renewable energy, this power plant does not meet that need. Indeed, biofuels worsen global food shortages by competitively raising food prices and cause environmental pollution. I have no objections to clean and renewable energy 'in my backyard' and thus support Rampion wind farm.

The biofuel station offers us nothing (low paid temporary jobs are not what is required to boost the local economy) and offers pollution and harm.

I sincerely hope the council reconsiders its agreement to this.

Kind Regards,

Sarah Flower
