F.AO. Eve Hearsey

1 message

[redacted] 22 February 2021 at 11:39

To: "planning@adur-worthing.gov.uk" <planning@adur-worthing.gov.uk>

Your reference: AWDM/0197/21

Almost everyone in the country is entitled to build an extension onto their house. Almost every council in the country will agree planning and almost everyone In the country like me will have to suffer the consequences of a reduction in privacy, a loss of privacy, an invasion of privacy.

I have already had to spent time, money and effort trying to restore the loss of privacy to the west facing side of my property when on the 13 May 2015 the residents of 31 Lynchmere Avenue had a kitchen window installed into their kitchen wall which also enabled a view directly into my kitchen.
Totally unacceptable as far as I am concerned.

If at some time in the future I have to try to solve the problem of a loss of privacy to the south side of my property . . . I will. Half a dozen thirty foot high conifers strategically placed may well be required.

Carry on planning, carry on building and I will carry on restoring.

Privacy is fragile . . . Privacy is precious.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. P.T.Hassett