Hi Rebekah,

The unit should be ok, provided they stick to the hours of operation contained within the application form and it is mounted on anti vibration mounts. These should be conditions.

Kind regards

Tessa

Dear Tessa,

The applicant has directed me to this unit but hasn't provided the full details in a supporting document so here is a link:

<https://www.appliancesdirect.co.uk/p/s18ec/lg-s18ec-air-conditioner>

The product information tab gives sound pressure levels.

If this is suitable I'll ask for this to be extracted into a supporting document so we can secure this, and for confirmation on anti-vibration mounts.

I'd be grateful for your comments.

Kind regards,

Rebekah

Hi Rebekah,

With regard to the air conditioning unit on this application.

The unit has the potential to cause noise disturbance to future occupiers of the site and adjacent neighbours. I note that the brochure supplied has no noise data and several model numbers.

Please can the applicant supply information on the model number they intend to install and the noise emissions from that unit, as well as confirm that it will be mounted using anti-vibration mounts.

Kind regards
