Reasons for comment:	- Loss of General Amenity - Other - Privacy Light and Noise
Comments:	This is a good residential area. We have covernants on our properties preventing "any" advertising signs from being erected in any of these properties. We are not in a commercial area where illuminated signs would be acceptable. Degrading this area to a commercial zone would be a travisty, but would come with a need to reduce the Council tax bandinds. These signs would interfere with the enjoyment of my property. It may also be a distraction to drivers who already do not see us emerging from our driveways and therefore may lead to increased accidents along a very busy carriageway.
