Reasons for comment: - Privacy Light and Noise

Comments: When number 55's garage was converted into a music studio I suffered with noise pollution in the form of loud music. When this conversion took place we were given assurances that it would be suitably sound-proofed, this proved not to be the case (and resulted in my daughter having to verbally complain on more than one occasion). My concern is simply that based on previous failed assurances regarding the use of the property, and due to the massive size of this structure (especially now that I have finally seen the plans and seen the second partitioned room), it could be used for purposes other than the ones proposed.
