

The Red line is the angle that the sun rises over the existing roof of the house in relation to the Neighbours window.

Anyting above the Red line is sunlight and not obsurced by the house.

Below the Red line any direct sunlight is blocked by the exisiting house.

The Thick Yellow line shows the proposed new roof line of the Shed, this is below the Red line

The Proposed amendment to the Shed height will not block any sunlight from the Neighbuors window
