To whom it may concern .
After watching the diggers moving shingle all weekend at the proposed site of beach huts.
I had a conversation with one of the drivers as to why they are doing this ,it seem that the shingle is unstable and needs maintenance more often to shore up the beach , has anyone had the conversation with the environment agency as to if this is a viable and safe site to have beach huts as I was lead to believe any money spent in that area should be used for flood defences
I would appreciate a prompt response
